Cops 1, dog 0, victory protested

By Valerie Ewenden

GRANITE CITY — Tammy Magyar claims the shooting of her dog on Monday was a case of mistaken identity.

Police Chief Jim Lengyel also is upset about the incident, but he firmly believes the Doberman shot and killed by an officer was the same animal being chased by a Granite officer, and police in the North Granite area.

The chase began after a loose Doberman man on 29th Place allegedly charged and tried to bite a 12-year-old boy.

"I don't like it, either," Lengyel said Wednesday about the shooting, noting that he is a dog owner and has had dogs for years.

"It's understandable she would be upset when she walks out of the house and sees (that) an officer has shot her dog," he said.

"We're not living in Russia where they can just shoot something. In fact, we don't even live in Granite City," Magyar said.

"It's beyond me how they can kill your animal in your own yard."

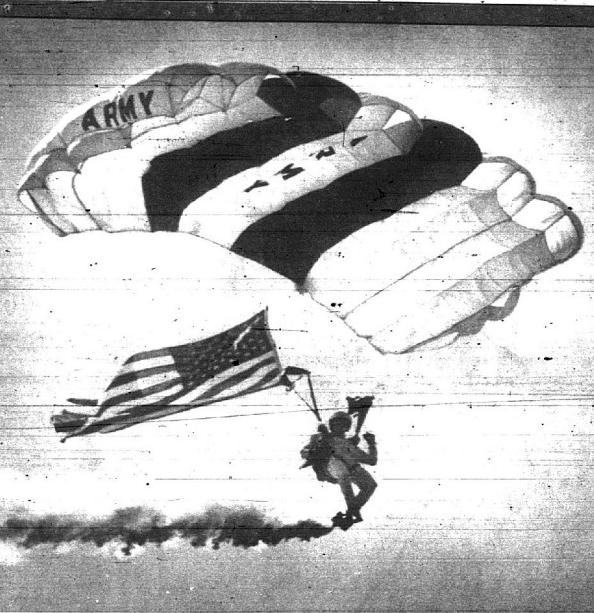

Although she cared for the dog and called it hers, Magyar said the person responsible as owner of the Doberman was Ed Fleig.

Lengyel said the department has been under pressure from North Granite residents to do something about a Doberman roaming the area.

"We've been getting reports of a Doberman on the loose for about three weeks" and the humane department reported they could not catch the dog, Lengyel said.

"For the safety of people it was necessary to say that if the dog could not be captured, we would have to shoot it," he said.

Police were alerted to the presence of a vicious dog on Dec. 12 by Ann Jarman of (see DOBERMAN, Page 3A)

Senior meals back to normal following fire

By Nicole Vaughn

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — After a week without meals from Madison County Senior Citizens Services, things were almost back to normal yesterday for senior citizens at the Granite City Township Building.

Sally Hess, nutrition manager for Madison County senior citizens, said meals resumed Tuesday in Granite City, cooked by Service America in St. Louis.

"Other than missing the week, Granite City shouldn't be affected too much," Hess said.

An early-morning burglary at the Granite City Township Building at Madison County Senior Citizens Services office in Alton on Dec. 23 caused the abrupt cancellation of nutrition site meals throughout most of Madison County last week.

Authorities believe the fire was an attempt to cover up a burglary at the office.

Although the fire was confined to a storage room, there was great damage throughout the building.

Three days' worth of meals were destroyed, causing many centers to cancel Christmas dinner.

The kitchen was also rendered inoperable, Hess said.

Legislators back downing Libyan planes

By Edward T. Hearn

P-RJ Washington bureau

WASHINGTON — Sen. Paul Simon, an Illinois Democrat, said Wednesday that the United States should avoid escalating hostilities with Libya in the aftermath of the shootdown of a pair of Libyan fighter planes in the Mediterranean Sea.

But Simon, in a prepared statement after the Pentagon announced the air skirmish off the northeast Libyan coast, also urged the U.S. to act against a pair of Libyan MiG-23s which had

"On the basis of the information available at this point, we were well within our rights. Our pilots were defending themselves and their aircraft, as they should have," Simon said.

"Now we should do what we can to prevent escalation," he said.

U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello said that based on preliminary reports he felt U.S. military action was "appropriate," though he will continue to monitor developments.

"We can't surmise from all the information released from the State Department that the action that was taken was appropriate," the Bellville Democrat said.

"What we will do now is wait and see in the next few days what additional information comes from the State Depart-

The dogfight off the Libyan coast came as the Reagan administration was preparing to show its NATO (North Atlantic Treaty Organization) allies some evidence of a chemical weapons plant near Tripoli, the Libyan capital.

Sen. Alan Dixon, Illinois Democrat, said the controversy surrounding the U.S. chemical weapons facility in Libya may well produce pharmaceuticals, and the downing of the Libyan jets were unrelated.

"I have been asked if this encounter has converted us to our concern over the alleged development of chemical weapons by the government of Libya," Dixon added.

"The U.S. acted according to the rules of engagement and fired on the Libyan planes only after the Libyans planes ignored warnings by U.S. planes to change their course away from the Kennedy," Dixon added.

Pontoon Beach man given 6 months in Huck's case

EDWARDSVILLE — Ronnie Martin, 35, owner of Ronnie's Service Center in Pontoon Beach, has been sentenced to six months in the Clinton County Jail in Edwardsville on a charge of solicitation to commit arson.

Martin, who resides on Victoria Drive, also was given 30 days probation, fined $1,000, one year of intensive supervision, and was ordered to pay $90 in court costs by Circuit Judge Charles V. Roman Jr.

The charge and sentence were in connection with an offense occurring in April 1986 at the Huck's Convenient Store at Lake Drive and Pontoon Road in Pontoon Beach.

He pleaded guilty to the Pontoon Beach Police Department's arson solicitation charge on Nov. 2, 1987.

In a separate case, Martin was also recently charged with arson at a Jelmy car repair shop in Clinton County. Authorities allege that Martin was involved with the arson, for insurance purposes, of an automobile on July 6.

He was being held on the arson charge in the Clinton County Jail in Carlyle in lieu of a $500,000 bond prior to being transferred to the Madison County jail for sentencing on the Huck's case, authorities said.

Efforts to reach Clinton County authorities to secure further information on the case were unsuccessful, and Martin remained in the Madison County Jail on Wednesday.

On Dec. 22, Martin was also charged in a five-count felony information warrant issued by the Madison County State's Attorney's Office. His failure to be licensed and keep records as an automobile parts recycler at a business he owns on Pontoon Road.

The charge in the warrant resulted from an investigation by the Illinois Secretary of State's Office in cooperation with the county state's attorney and Pontoon Beach Police Department.

Bond on the warrant was set at $75,000 by Associate Judge Dan Slack.

Marlin was awaiting sentencing on the Huck's arson solicitation charge at the time.

He allegedly assembled a 48-foot, double-sided "Re-elect Dick Allen" sign on the National Foods parking lot at Nameoki Road and Madison Avenue.

Ordered to move the sign, Marlin moved it to a vacant lot in Madison and was told to move it again by Madison Mayor John Belcoff.

The year's obituaries inside today

"To everything there is a season," it says in Ecclesiastes. "A time to be born and a time to die."

At the start of a new year, with all its hope and promise, it is a decent thing to pause and remember those who have departed.

On page 3B those whose obituaries appear in the Granite City Journal publications in 1988.

There are 951 names on the list. Several persons were older than 100 years; several were infants.

But all are remembered by someone.

The list includes only those whose names appeared during the calendar year '88. That may include a few persons who died at the end of 1987, and could exclude a few who died at the very end of 1988. If others are missing, we apologize.

The obituaries are grouped according to the months in which they appeared in the paper, not necessarily according to the month in which an individual died.

The paper runs free obituaries of all local residents, relatives and residents, and of some people who have maintained ties here. The paper inside is a continuation of that public service, and we hope it serves a useful purpose.

3 charges filed after woman suffers beating

James H. Sanders Jr., 30, of Kirkpatrick Homes was charged with assault and battery to state-supported land, disorderly conduct and battery Dec. 25 at the apartment of Dawn Valen in the 2500 block of Kirkpatrick.

Police went to the apartment in response to a disturbance report, and heard screams coming from inside. Officers could not get anyone to open the rear door.

After learning that the front door was open, the officers went inside and alleged that the apartment was in disarray with furniture, appliances, pictures, dishes, glasses and food items thrown about the rooms.

Vaient, 30, who sustained numerous cuts and bruises to the face, was taken by city ambulance to the emergency room at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Coolidge to soon get lift for wheelchairs

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY Coolidge Junior High School will be getting a wheelchair lift sometime this spring.

The new lift will allow wheelchair access to classrooms on the building's second floor.

Granite City High School has in its main building, the same model to be installed at Coolidge, as well as two smaller versions in the vocational building of GCHS.

"With one already in the high school, Coolidge was the only building where we felt a special need for accessibility," said Ron Landman, District 9 director of buildings and grounds, said.

Most of the elementary schools also have ramps for wheelchair access and Grigsby Junior High has only a band practice room on its second floor, Landman said.

The school board approved a bid for $29,695 from Comfort Home Elevator of St. Louis for a Garravanti lift with protective armrests.

The funds for the lift will come from a handicapped barrier grant written by Landman. The grant also covers the cost of restroom renovations at Coolidge, as well as at the high school. Those renovations have been postponed until the district determines how it will be dealing with asbestos in those buildings.

"We need to see how much of the work regarding the asbestos we can get done and how we're going to do it before we make those plans," Landman said.

"We are saving money is a 16-week delivery on the lift but he hopes to get it sooner."

"I would like to see it installed during the Easter vacation," Landman said.

Intruder flees from residence

Daleen Fisher of the 2200 block of Edna Street apparently intended to burglarize her house when she called 911 at 11:50 p.m. Jan. 2.

Someone ran from a bedroom toward her and pushed her with his arm against a wall and out of the door, knocking her to the floor.

The intruder fled through a rear door into the alley, chased by Michael Jackson of the 2200 block of Edna. He caught the suspect near Alexander Street. Jackson stopped a police officer and told him of the burglary.

The suspect was thin and in his late teens with light brown or blonde hair, collar length. He was wearing a baseball cap, a denim jacket, blue jeans and dark tennis shoes.

Burglar ransacks entire residence

In a burglary at the home of Kathy Keck in the 1700 block of Venice Avenue, reported at 4 p.m. Dec. 30, the intruder ransacked the entire dwelling, pulling out furniture, drawers and throwing the contents onto the floor.

Missing were a video cassette recorder, a television, two 14k gold necklaces valued at $100 and $35, an electronic TV game worth $70, a pearl necklace, a silver wedding band, a man's ring with a red stone, a 1970 class ring, a man's cat's eye ring with two small diamonds, a 1985 proof set of U.S. coins, an instant camera and case and a pair of 14k gold earrings.

After trying to pry open a rear door, breaking the trim and door joints, the burglar either kicked or shouldered the door open.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED

• Attorney At Law

When a person is involved in an automobile accident, should he submit a claim to his own car insurance company? Many automobile insurance carriers now claim they are losing money by severally rating rather than refusing to renew coverage on certain high-risk drivers. In a given case, a person must weigh the benefits of submitting the claim against the possibility of having higher premiums or facing cancellation.

Several years ago, automobile insurance carriers only raised premiums if a driver was at fault in an accident. Many automobile carriers now have taken the position if they renew your insurance in any manner, this will be used as a basis for raising premiums.

For example, let's assume you are involved in a collision, and the other driver is at fault. Even though you are not negligent, you may find it necessary to submit a property damage claim to your own company. This could occur because the other company refuses to pay for your car in a timely manner, because the driver at fault was not insured. Some companies who pay to have a car fixed in this situation will use this as a basis to raise the innocent driver's rates when the policy comes due.

A person who recently came to this office had been involved in three accidents in an 18-month period of time. None of the accidents had been his fault. The company he had been using for coverage would not be renewed. The underwriter indicated that the company was in the process of reevaluating all drivers and not renewing people who were considered high-risk. The company representative stated that they were refusing to renew not only bad drivers but also drivers who were "unlucky."

It is obvious from this case that the less often a driver submits a claim under his own insurance, the more likely he is to keep his premiums at a reasonable level and maintain the insurance in force. It should be noted that the criteria for rate increases and cancellations will vary from company to company. Certainly, when a person needs to use his automobile, he should never hesitate to do so. Nevertheless, it seems to be the policy of some automobile insurance companies to have their agents sell the policy as cheaply as possible and then look for reasons to raise the rates at some later time.

strict if the tasks could not be completed this summer.

"If you put a 1989 deadline on something within the plan and you don't get it done, you can be fined," Landman explained.

He and another district employee are both certified for asbestos repair and he said he plans to ask the board to approve the certification of two more workers.

Since the workers are only certified for repair work, Landman said, he will also request that an architect be hired to draw up a asbestos removal plan.

The IDPPI requires that all friable asbestos be removed within four years of plan implementation. Friable asbestos is asbestos that is in a crumbling state, commonly in floor and ceiling tiles, and can become airborne or easily tracked through a building.

The Granite City school board approved a long-term planning schedule, to be included in the asbestos management plan prepared by Asbestos Consultants of Illinois in Springfield.

While there may be a need to correct asbestos problems sometime in the future, Parkview and Maryville elementary schools and Grigsby Junior High School currently do not show signs of any dangerous asbestos.

"The mandates (surrounding asbestos management) are changing daily," Superintendent Gib Walmley said. "While we never really deal with some of it immediately, that could change in six months."

Landman said the work will be done as fast as possible and as much will be done as the money allows. To start the work, Landman estimates that between $85,000 and $90,000 in life safety funds are available.

The figure could change, as those funds may be diverted to prepare Lake School for reopening this fall.

"There is no way that the whole project can be funded out of life safety," Landman said. "At some point the board will have to determine where the rest of the money will come from."

If Lake School is to be reopened, it will also need the list of asbestos repairs and possibly removal.

"There is really nothing immediately hazardous in any of the schools," Landman said.

"But wherever there is asbestos there can be a problem. In getting Lake ready, I think that if we can get it (asbestos) out, let's get it out now."

Dobberman

the 3000 block of Sinclair Avenue. She said she drove into the driveway at home and when her son, Patrick, 6, got out of the car, a large Doberman dog came up to the child and bit him on the back of the left leg.

The dog tore the boy's pants and caused scratches on the leg, she said. This was the second time the dog had bitten her son, Jameson reported.

On Nov. 29, Patrick was bitten by the same dog on the left leg, the mother said. After the incident, the humane officer was told to watch for the dog, but was unable to catch the animal, a reporter said.

Humane department personnel called police Monday and said a Doberman was causing more problems in the same area and they still couldn't catch it.

The dog had been seen several times, but disappeared when attempts were made to capture it, Lengyel said.

"It is unfortunate that we had to do it and doubly unfortunate that it was the (property) owner's dog," the police chief said.

"The dog was spotted several houses away from the yard where he went into. We had no idea that he lived there," Lengyel said.

Permit was given to shoot the dog after an incident at 2:45 p.m. Monday when a woman identified as Joyce Rogers called police and pointed at a black and tan Doberman in her back yard and said the dog had charged at her 12-year-old son.

"Ours never left the yard and was a good dog. I have pictures taken at picnics and barbecues (at the home) with the dog right in the middle of people," she said.

Maynard said several squad cars and about eight officers surrounded her yard at about 3:30 p.m. Monday.

"Apparently they were after another Doberman who bit a kid on 29th. They said they'd been

Joshua

The boy said the dog came onto his porch and charged at him, trying to bite him. The victim appeared very frightened by the animal, the official record of the occurrence showed.

Joshua was sure the dog was going to bite him, since it bared its teeth and charged at him before he ran into the house, the boy said.

Two teenage boys walking down Circle Drive about the same time told police the Doberman had chased them and the pair threw snowballs at the animal, turning it back. The animal appeared to be vicious in its charge, the youths told Sgt. John Apperson.

Maynard is certain the dog being chased by police was not Beau, her 7-year-old Doberman. "Everyone around here knows that he wasn't your average Doberman. He was a beloved pet," she said.

Lengyel said the dog crossed the railroad tracks and went into A.O. Smith property.

"An officer hit it and either hit it or scared it because it fell down," Lengyel said.

The dog got up and ran into the salvo yard on Maynard's street near 30th and Missouri Avenue, where the officer lost sight of it, but it was seen again on the other side of the yard.

The officer definitely identified the animal as the same dog the officers had been chasing before getting permission to shoot it, Lengyel said.

Magyar wants the dog's body back so she can bury it herself, she said.

Authorities expect the center to open during the next 10 days.

"We are currently unable to use the building at all," Hess said.

"Right now, we're just glad to be able to get things started up again."

More than 100 meals are served in Granite City on daily basis, Monday through Friday.

Hess said the meals will still be picked up in Alton and brought to Granite City as they usually are.

The center serves meals at 16 sites throughout Madison County.

Meals at some of the locations, including those in Troy, Maryville and Collinsville, have been suspended until MCSICS resumes.

"They hadn't been any meals but they didn't stop people from coming and bringing their own," Bernie Hagnauer, Granite City Township office manager, said.

With the return of the meals, seniors are reminded to make reservations day in advance, preferably during the morning, Hagnauer said.

To make reservations, they may call 877-4373.

Living Every Day
Bob Thomas
President, Thomas Mortuaries Ltd.

NEW YEARS RESOLUTION ... TO LIVE EVERY DAY

Last Sunday was the day when we make all of those resolutions that we are sure will change our life forever. Most of us are lucky if they change our life for one or two weeks. However, there is one resolution that we have all found change on your life forever and that is if you resolve to live every day of your life.

By now you are probably shaking your head and saying to yourself, "What?" I have advised Everybody live every day of their life?" But this simply isn't true. In truth, everyone exists each day of their life, but existing and living are two entirely different things. Existing involves the daily functions of life; getting up in the morning, eating, sleeping, working, taking care of children etc., living more than we involve.

Living means accepting the challenges of life and working to defeat them. It means that along with challenges come losses, pain and suffering, how can we know and recognize joy and comfort? Without challenges how can we know and recognize triumph? The answers are, we can't.

Living means reaching out to others and being coming close to them. Many live their entire lives in an emotional void, afraid to reach out to even the closest family members. Trust people to have the same sensibilities that you have and reach out in friendship and trust to them. I think you will happily find that they are more than caring than you thought.

Living means realistically looking inward. Look at yourself and evaluate your weaknesses, and more importantly, evaluate your strengths. While some people are an inflated conception of themselves, far more suffer from a deflated ego. These people go through life never appreciating their accomplishments and never allowing themselves to enjoy their moments of triumph.

Each of us has 24 days in a day and 7 days in a week with which to work. Only you can decide what to do to live each of these hours of each of those days or merely exist. I think you will find living rather than existing much more satisfying.

Pontoon Lions make holidays happier for needy families

The Lions of Pontoon Beach collected canned goods for the needy of the Quad City area, beginning in November.

Richardson, chairman of Pontoon Beach's annual Christmas Give-a-Can Drive has been a tradition in the club for the past 13 years," President Nelson King said.

Bob Richardson, who with other members of the club had collected names of recipients for Christmas baskets, said he hoped the club would be able to help more than 100 families this year. The Christmas baskets of food were delivered Dec. 17 by members of the Pontoon Beach Lions and Lions Club.

Richardson thanked a number of major contributors to the drive: Ray Stevens, Trustee of Pontoon Beach; Prairie Farms Milk; Little Debbie Cakes; Smokey Joe's Tavern; Leroy's Market; the Lions Club of Pontoon Beach; and the Lionesses Club of Pontoon Beach.

King said, "This drive is but one of many services provided to the Quad City area by the Lions Club. Others included eyeglasses and hearing aids for the elderly, a sight and sound summer camp for impaired children, collecting and transporting eye tissue for cornea transplants."

Moments of 1988 frozen in time

PHOTOS OF THE YEAR: These photos were among the best published during 1988, as chosen by staff photographer Pat Foley. Clockwise from top left: Katherine Reiter of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Granite City voices her concern in January about the then-proposed merger of her parish and that of St. Peter's. The two became a single parish. The merger became reality in midsummer with the formation of Holy Family Church. Continuing on the page, Madison firefighters battle an early-morning blaze at two vacant homes in May; test castings are made at American Steel Foundries in mid-November, breaking six years of silence at the idle plant; the planet Venus and the moon are a spectacular site in the western sky in mid-April; Kitty Dukakis, wife of then-Democratic presidential nominee Michael Dukakis, makes a brief campaign stop here in late October; and pit bulls make the news as the Granite City Council passes an anti-pit bull ordinance and later amends it to include all vicious dogs.

More than 100 guests attended the party. Music was led by Amerik Kachigian, and the speaker was Bill Turner.

His delight turned to dismay

Cora Nance received a "Mrs. Albe" key chain for having the most recruits.

Blown glass replicas of Mrs. Albe were given by Green, Mary Schmittling, Evelyn Sherman and Esther Clements.

Certificates for completing one, two and three workshops were awarded to Lois Hoy and Sheila Davis.

Trained Avon representatives pins were won by Neola Adair and Mary Rodgers.

Ruth Miller received a tack pin for sponsoring 10 recruits.

The 1988 Mrs. Albe porcelain figurine, which is awarded when each representative reaches a certain level, was given by Fred Boatright, and music director Dwain Bridges.

Representatives and fellowship were enjoyed by the Boatright and his wife, Dorothy, Diane Bridges and her children, Emily and Kyle, Glenn and Phyllis Krueger, John Harrigan; Ruby Schultz, Andrea Schultz; John Cornett; Ida Miller; Carol Fisher; Irene Koenig; Carl Wilkerson; Roger and Edna Stagner; Tina Lyons; Kay Andersen; Luella Probes; and Jessie Peters.

Games were played with prizes going to Emily Bridges, Linda Bridges, Edna Stagner, Betty Conner, Carl Fisher and Dorothy Boatright.

The game night was a hit with the life of C.S. Lewis was shown.

All went to the sanctuary, where the pastor gave a devotion and Glenn Knight, Roger and Diane, the pastor prayed in the new year.

Hugh Harrigan, church training director, was in charge of the evening.

Junior troop scouts take educational field trips

The girls held a sock-hop and played the game show, "Win, Win, Draw." Prizes were given to the winning team and best dancers.

The troop also assisted Principal David Behringer in decorating the Christmas tree in the cafeteria at the school.

The girls were served hot dogs, chips, cake, brownies, cookies and punch.

The girls' badge was held, and all the girls were presented with a present and goody bag to take home.

Attending were: Stephanie Smith, Tiffany Endicott, Amanda Derossett, Brandy and Sundy Pace, Patty McCollum, Marlene Morris, Linda Volmer, Sue Moran, Christy McClure, Carmanish Samuels, Veronica Rodriguez, Roberta Sampson and Julian Banks.

Guests included: Tammy Brooks; Edward Kinucha; Bill Jeffrey, Carrie and Tammy Potts; and leaders Debra Lieber and Linda Pollock.

The troop also went out visiting in the community Dec. 27.

First the troop took a tour of St. Elizabeth Medical Center. The girls were taught how to make a blood pressure reading, and count respiration.

In the afternoon, Scouts went to Campbell's Ambulance Service in Madison where they were given a tour and shown how emergency equipment is used. They also were shown the inside of an ambulance.

The last stop on the trip was the fire department in Granite City. There the girls learned how a fire truck works and how a fireman's job is.

At the end of the tour, the girls were given a snack and a bag of freebies to take home.

The troop then visited the medical manager department, housekeeping, security, the mail room and the emergency room.

The girls were given a snack and a bag of freebies to take home.

The girls were shown how to make a police report, before taking the bus back to the school.

Next, the troop went to Pizza Hut for a tour and learned how to make pizza. Then they had lunch at the restaurant.

In the afternoon, Scouts went to the Granite City Bowling Alley, where the girls learned how to bowl.

Then the troop was given a tour of Illinois Power Co. in Granite City. There the girls learned how electricity is made and how it reaches their homes.

They also learned about the tools that are used to fix electrical lines and dig utility pole holes.

Afterward, the Scouts went to McDonald's Restaurant on Madison Avenue, where they were given a tour of the restaurant.

They learned about making burgers and french fries and how a restauranteur is run. At the end of the tour, the troop received free hamburgers and french fries.

The first Shambro sister family Christmas party was held Dec. 23 at the Dini Restaurant.

The former Shambro sisters, who now reside in Venice, are Rose Rios, Margie Seibert, Ann Butler, Jo Johnsen and Marcia Whaley. All are still area residents.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whaley, and sons Michael, Joe and Mark; Mr. and Mrs.

George Whaley and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnsee and Adrienne and Mrs. David Buttler; and children Gregg, Mark and Cindy; Anna Butler; Margie Seibert; Rose Rios; Jo Johnsen and Marcia Whaley. All are still area residents.

Victory for Illinois consumers

To the editor:
As you know, I led the fight for credit card reform by withdrawing millions of dollars in deposits from Illinois financial institutions that were charging high interest rates on their credit cards.

Last year, an important piece of consumer credit legislation passed both houses and was signed into law.

This law, Public Act 85-983, requires issuers of credit cards or retail charge agreements (revolving credit accounts) to disclose interest rates, fees and grace periods — and in the case of bank credit cards, monthly billing statements.

However, the credit card industry managed to delay the effective date of the Act's disclosure provision until January 1, 1989.

Then during the recent veto session, an amendment was introduced to House Bill 4180 which would have delayed the effective date further to Sept. 1, 1989.

Although the Illinois Senate passed this amendment, we were able to march enough support in the Illinois House of Representatives to avoid further delays in the implementation of this consumer protection legislation.

This issue had been complicated by passage of federal legislation (effective Jan. 1, 1989) which carries many of the same provisions of PA 85-983.

However, passage of the amendment to House Bill 4180 would have resulted in a delay in implementing all provisions not pre-empted by the federal law.

With the passing of the voting deadline on the amendment, we have once again carried the day for Illinois consumers.

Since the federal law goes into effect before the Legislature meets again, consumers have won the right to proper disclosure of information.

This will not only enable them to determine which issuers are ripping them off with high credit card interest rates, but also those who are offering competitive rates.

This is a small but very important victory for the consumer. Let me assure you that our vigilance will continue.

Letter: Farm borrowers have rights

To the editor:

There has been a great deal of concern and speculation regarding the Farmers Home Administration's (FmHA) notices are being sent to delinquent borrowers. It is important to understand that these initial notices are not announcements of foreclosure.

Rather, these letters are designed to notify financially troubled borrowers of their rights and protections, as well as the options available to keep them on their land.

The Farmers Home Administration has historically been a lender of last resort for farmers. As a rule, FmHA can provide farmers with the opportunity to prosper, or it can force farmers under.

Over the past few years, FmHA nationally had lost sight of its important mission. Congress has always intended FmHA to be the farmer's friend, not foe.

With the Agricultural Credit Act of 1987, Congress significantly expanded borrowers' rights, and imposed new requirements on FmHA to provide farmers with the assistance they so desperately need.

The Agricultural Credit Act (P.L. 100-233) provides for substantial revisions in FmHA's farmer program loan servicing.

This law directs FmHA to once again resume its traditional role as the agency that helps farmers out of their financial problems. These restructuring provisions require all FmHA loans to be restructured if that course is less costly than liquidation.

The law also requires FmHA to notify all delinquent borrowers of alternatives to foreclosure.

In compliance with this new law, FmHA is currently sending out letters to borrowers who are 180 days or more behind in their payments. These notices will provide detailed information on the new benefits being offered under the Primary and Preservation Loan Service Programs.

If you receive such a notice, it is vitally important that you respond to FmHA within 45 days.

The new law provides you with legal rights — but you have the responsibility to claim those rights for yourself. You must carefully study your options and notify FmHA of your decisions within 45 days.

If you fail to respond within this time frame, you may forfeit many of the new protections that the law affords you. FmHA is required to make its determination and notify the borrower of its ruling on qualifications, in writing, within 60 days of the borrower's written response.

The Agricultural Credit Act was written to provide FmHA with the flexibility to help farmers restructure and refinance their loans.

Under the Primary Loan Service Programs, FmHA has the flexibility to coordinate rescued and/or reamortize, defer principal and interest payments, reduce interest rates, write down debt, or any combination of these actions.

If you receive this letter from FmHA, do not ignore it. Avail yourself of the options that have been put into place to protect the American farmer. Respond as quickly as possible to preserve your rights and protections under the new law.

Flood issue leaves questions

To the editor:

The headline of the Press-Record on Dec. 29, 1988, states "Flood control back on ballot."

It is my understanding that a referendum that was defeated has to wait at least five months before it can be voted on again. After the people of the area in which it is proposed, with petitions signed. If this is an emergency, why doesn't the levee board or county board request money from the state? — state law #99?

These are just a few things that come to mind. Would Evelyn Bowers publicize (roughly) how much it would cost to have a special election? The money spent on a special election would go a long way to repair gates and locks. Who would pay for the levee board and county board have the funds for an election, why do they want more money?

The Army Corps of Engineers said that the pumps would not be installed for at least four years and maybe not then. If the pumps were installed, the EPA said that the groundwater could not be pumped into the river without being treated. What this means is that a treatment plant would have to be built (more money).

Can you imagine giving the levee board extra funds for at least four years? Can you imagine any taxing body returning money, or lowering taxes?

This can't be an emergency; the river is at its lowest level in years. No spring flood is predicted. Write to your state senators and representatives in the dark, or in the light, concerning their backs on the people in their districts?

It looks like the people involved are using scare tactics to fill their coffers. My question to Jerry Costello, Sam Wolf, Jim Broadway and others is: "Greathouse is, 'Will you give me a written guarantee that the Corps of Engineers will install the pumps and no treatment plant will be built?'

I think the taxpayers should question the people involved before they vote yes or no.

Advice: Buckle up all year long

To the editor:

Once again, the holiday season is over. We look forward to the new year and reflect on the old.

We try to make resolutions that will make the coming year better for us than the year before. The Illinois Coalition for Safety Belt Use has a suggestion.

Let this year's resolution be to always wear safety belts and restrain your children in child seats every time you ride in a vehicle.

In Illinois in 1987, among children 14 and younger, 52 deaths and 12,481 injuries were reported as a result of motor vehicle accidents.

Don't let this happen to your children. Protect them during the holidays and start a habit that will protect them throughout the new year. Make sure you set a good example and buckle up as well.

As you and your family travel during the next several weeks, be safe and practice good driving habits. Have a designated driver if you plan to drink.

Remember that your best protection against a drunk driver is a seatbelt.

Buckle up and enjoy the year.

Long-term care plan necessary

To the editor:

It is true that in the presidential campaign far too little emphasis was given to the issues.

But here and there they crept in.

In the magazine, Modern Maturity, published by the American Association of Retired Persons, George Bush, the candidate, said: "I am committed to putting a long-term care law on the books quickly."

The other day a television reporter interviewed me. I told of the need for long-term health care. I stressed that much of it should not be in nursing homes.

I said a typical case is an older woman who is getting frail, whose husband suffers a stroke and cannot care for her. She needs someone to help him. Their children live a thousand miles away and they don't know what to do. They worry about their mother's health as well as their father's well-being. Finally, they send him to a nursing home.

If one a day someone could come into the home and perform just a few basic services, the couple could continue to live together, and at much less cost.

When the television lights went off, the reporter said to me: "That's amazing. You were talking about my parents."

We are the only major industrial country other than South Africa that does not take care of our parents and our grandparents if they need long-term health care.

We have not provided for those who face the need for long-term health care. Most of us, fortunately, will never need it, but some of us will. Families that need that kind of care should be financially devastated.

I have offered a proposal along with Congressman Claude Pepper of Florida to extend Medicare coverage to help pay for long-term care and services. But we will also have to pay for that coverage. We cannot add to the deficit.

I see basically three alternatives: (1) enact a half percent increase in the Social Security tax; (2) take a portion of the Social Security tax, which now stops when your income reaches $48,000; or (3) implement a series of taxes on cigarettes and liquor.

There are other possibilities, but these appear to be the most probable. We should act.

"I am committed to putting a long-term care law on the books quickly," George Bush told us. Let's do it.

People suffer many degrees of stress.

Now DePaul has programs specifically for those in the middle.

Most stress units in the St. Louis area are located in psychiatric hospitals. But at DePaul, we know you're not all broken up, and we know you need more than a stress management course...you're in the middle.

You may be suffering from anxiety, depression or irritability, or showing physical signs of stress such as headaches, stomachaches, excessive smoking, drinking or overeating. DePaul offers a variety of inpatient and outpatient stress programs designed especially for you. In our non-psychiatric setting, every patient enjoys a private room. Our skilled, caring team of professionals can help you learn to cope with stress and deal more effectively with personal and family problems.

So, call DePaul for a free evaluation, and just the right amount of care.

For a free stress assessment call 344-6683.

Thanks, panel, for big favor

The reactions have been varied. In the Rantoul area, they screamed, "Why us?!" In other quarters, it was, "Why not them?"

But when we saw the list of military bases recommended for closing by a special Defense Department commission, all we could do was breathe a big sigh of relief.

The Charles Melvin Price Support Center in Granite City avoided the Pentagon chopping block, as did the Scott Air Base near O'Fallon. Local legislators remained calm about it all, but we couldn't help but feel tremendous excitement.

Neither installation was touched, but we're not sure if that was because of their present efficiency, legislative intervention or the grace of God. As we're not picky, we'll take any of the above.

The nature of the Pentagon beast is such that any and all bases on U.S. soil were in jeopardy. The folks at Chanute Air Base in Rantoul probably didn't think it could happen to them. Neither did officers in the mess hall at Fort Sheridan near Chicago. However, after those two bases became the only ones in Illi-nosis recommended for closing, all the military personnel and community leaders could do was sadly shake their heads.

Consider, for a moment what a military base means to a community. Chanute, for example, employs about 7,000 military and civilian personnel and has an annual payroll of $167 million.

Despite the obvious handicaps no commission operated under (not studying overseas bases, not having access to classified info) we think some logical conclusions were drawn, and we hope Secretary of Defense Frank Carlucci takes seriously his responsibility to the taxpaying public.

The panel's 88-page report to Carlucci claims the Pentagon can save an estimated $5.6 billion over 20 years by carrying out all the recommendations. Carlucci has until Jan. 16 to accept or reject the closure list. The House and Senate have 45 legislative days, beginning March 1, to endorse any decision.

Eighty-six bases are recommended for closure, five more for partial closure and 54 others for personnel realignment. Approximately 4,200 military properties were studied.

Apparently we won the battle.

Protect lives, home values

The fact that the East St. Louis city primary Feb. 29 enables a Metro East Sanitary District election to be held the same day is good news for MESD residents.

The availability of major federal funding for flood control work is fast running out. Action now is essential.

No election achieves unanimity, and nay-sayers already are active. They say the election date may be inappropriate, that the improvements are not urgent, that it costs too much to conduct an election; that the river poses no threat, and even that millions of dollars of drainage and flood protection funding might be available from other sources. There will be ample time for such points to be evaluated in detail, but they appear to be unsound and inaccurate.

The MESD proposal lost narrowly. Now, as when presidential and congressional races and many other issues competed for voters' attention. With most MESD voters now able to concentrate on the specifics of the anti-flood project, there is hope for majority approval.

Certainly, it is clearer than ever that severe sanctions are faced if the project is not carried out. Selling and buying of homes will be blocked and "economic destruction" will be inflicted in a variety of ways. The area is designated as an unprotected floodplain. And the reality of living in an unprotected floodplain is that flooding can occur, with lives lost and homes and businesses ruined.

It may be easy for some people to say, "Get the money elsewhere." There's plenty to go around. Let's thumb our noses at this one-time federal appropriation." But to us, that would be like sticking our collective heads in the sand, and leaving a considerable portion of our anatomy exposed to a costly and dangerous future.

Read lips, don't hold breath

"Read my lips. No new taxes," This pledge by George Bush, whose presidential victory was confirmed yesterday by Congress, means no new taxes in 1989, right? Well, maybe a little revenue enhancement or perhaps a bit of tax reform.

If you regard Social Security contributions as a tax, your payments in 1989 may rise from $3,379 to $3,604. The rate remains 7.51 percent (for both employees and employers) but wages subject to the tax rise from $45,000 to $48,000. (Remember the "good old days" when your income actually exceeded the taxable base?)

No change in the state sales tax is scheduled, but controversy continues over legislators' elimination of automatic distribution of the local portion of the sales tax. The way the law currently stands, effective in 1990 the General Assembly will make local sales taxes part of its appropriations process and then determine what and how much revenue to send on to local governments.

Regarding Metro East, a plan to allow local officials to add another quarter-cent to the sales tax was discussed by state lawmakers in late November but not enacted.

Whether to increase the state income tax in 1989 is yet to be decided. Legislators shied away from the idea in 1988, but schools, hospitals and others have cited a severe financial squeeze.

Should U.S. use military force against Libya?

If diplomatic attempts to stop the manufacturing of chemical weapons in Libya are unsuccessful, should the U.S. use military force, including the bombing of the plant, to shut down the operation?

Lewis Hackett,
Granite City

"Sounds kind of ironic to shut down a weapons plant by bombing, but we should try to stop (Col. Moammar) Gadhafi from spreading terrorism. It's a threat not only to the U.S., but the whole world."

Frank Ryan,
Granite City

"Yes, I'm sure Reagan will take care of it. He'll do whatever it takes to get the job done and to stop (Col. Moammar) Gadhafi from spreading chemical weapons. Everybody knows you can't trust Gadhafi."

John Buckingham,
Nameoki Township

"I'm not too mad on politics, but I don't think we should take anything off of him (Col. Moammar Gadhafi). If it's bombing the plant, has to be, then I say 'yes.'"

World also had some big stories

Last week's year in review of the top stories of 1988 gave a detailed look at the most-talked about stories, but it did a poor job of reflecting a conversation that dominated most tabletops - the world's top news.

But following a personal tradition of several years, and after finally getting the time, I prepared this column, a few days into a new year.

Consider this only one man's opinion of the "big news" of 1988.

The Presidential Race: More words were written on the Bush-Dukakis face-off than any other story.

2) The Armenia-Earthquake: Approximately 24,000 were killed in the Dec. 7 disaster, one of the worst disasters in the world.

3) The Drought of '88: Weather always makes for a topic of conversation, but the worst heat wave of the last 50 years brought no relief, just misery.

4) The Presidential and Emergence of Democrat Jesse Jackson: The first front-running black candidate for the presidency ensured his future as a political power.

5) Gorbachev's "Perestroika": Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev continues implementing revolutionary policies and escalates with arrival of troops from Afghanistan.

6) Tragedy at Sea: The cruiser U.S.S. Vincennes inadvertently shoots down an Iranian Air Bus in the Persian Gulf. Nearly 300 perished.

7) Risky Air Business: An exploding bomb causes Pan Am 103 to crash in Lockerbie, Scotland, killing all 259 on board and many on the ground. The incident is the last in a year's series of air tragedies.

8) Arafat's Quest for Peace: The leader of the Palestine Liberation Organization moves closer to the Jewish state of Israel; seeks peace accord on U.S. terms.

9) The Saga of the Whales: U.S. and Soviets ally to free trapped whales in desolate Alaska.

10) The New Administration: George Bush picks his cabinet.

About this special page...

This page is a first for the Press-Record Journal, a compilation of all names to appear on our obituary page during 1988. It is intended to inform those who might not have heard of an acquaintance's death. We apologize in advance for any typographical errors or misspellings that may have crept in. Literally hours of manpower were needed to research our files and log the names. Those compiling this page were staff writer Andy Sterling, typesetter Connie Jones and Managing Editor Dennis Grubaugh. Note that abbreviations were used in many instances to fit the line space, such as "Ven." for Venice. In instances where facts appear to be missing, it is likely because they could not be determined. Asterisks (*) denote former area residents, most of them from Granite City.

Best picture awards were given to: Kim Holloway, first place; Stacie Ahlers, second place; and Tamara Batson, third place. Honorable mentions went to Chris Warren, Brett Barron, Ben Hicks, Bryan Reed, Regan Hildebrand, Stacie Ahlers and Tara York.

The winning pictures will be submitted to the 1989 Scholastic Art awards contest later this year.

To appear in 'Who's Who'

A Granite City resident is among 12 students recently selected to appear in the publication's "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Nedra Sanders, a junior majoring in political science, is president of Kappa Lambda Iota. She is senior resident assistant in the Baker residence hall and has been a resident assistant for one and a half years.

She is also active in intramural sports, has worked as an interviewer in the Presidential Scholarship competition and was a member of members from the Student Council BASICS from 1986 to 1987. She will soon begin work on her honors thesis for the McKendree College Honors Program.

The Who's Who publication seeks candidates who as upperclassmen have "above average academic standing and participation in extracurricular activities and community service."

GCHS graduate joins Tau Beta Pi

The Tau Beta Pi chapter at the University of Illinois recently accepted 115 engineering students for membership.

Tau Beta Pi is the national engineering honor society recognizing those who exhibit outstanding academic achievement, character and integrity. To qualify for membership, students must rank in the top eighth of the junior class or top fifth of the senior class.

Patrick M. Hurley of Granite City, a senior, was among the 115 new members. A 1985 graduate of Granite City High School, he is the son of Carol and Bradwell of Belleville and the late Michael Hurley.

SIUE student gets $250 scholarship

Philip S. Dittamore, 26, of Granite City, has won a $250 scholarship from the Illinois Pre-Cast Concrete Association. Dittamore is an engineering student at Southern Illinois University Edwardsville.

He presented a paper entitled "Productivity and Learning Curves" to the concrete association at a recent meeting.

Dittamore's presentation made predictions about future worker output in the pre-cast concrete industry. The association is made up of owners of pre-cast concrete operations throughout Illinois.

Police dog gives demo at school

Maryville School pupils saw a demonstration by Illinois State Trooper R.W. Hays and his dog Brutus.

Hays explained the training and care of Brutus as well as his specialty — drug searches.

Sarah Huber, a second grade teacher, helped in a demonstration of Brutus' attack skills by wearing a special, protective sleeve. When he was told to "play" she was then able to pet him.

The share of General Funds spending for elementary and secondary education declined from 20 percent in 1979 to 23.5 percent in 1988.

Chicago schools are funded by the state at $4,139 per pupil, and Downstate schools at $3,385.

Granite City (Ill.) Press-Record, Thursday, January 5, 1989 — IC

Bush has high hopes for '89

"Poor old George" was ridiculed throughout the 1988 Democratic national convention as a man "born with a silver foot in his mouth."

But George Herbert Walker Bush will be inaugurated Jan. 20 as the 41st President of the United States. And many of the voters of America expressed confidence Nov. 8 in what he will think, say and do as our nation's chief executive.

THE ONLY TIME I saw him was on March 12, 1981, when the vice president entered a White House East Room reception for newspaper reporters. Also there were Nancy Reagan, looking sharp in a black and white striped dress, and President Ronald Reagan, who spoke to the gathering and then shook a few hands.

When I shook Mr. Reagan's hand, the only thing I said was "Keep up the good work." He smiled and moved on. If he took my advice, I share a little bit of the blame or credit for what he has accomplished during the past eight years.

George Bush almost became president less than three weeks later when a gunman wounded Mr. Reagan. The president made a spectacular recovery and now Mr. Bush will succeed him in the Oval Office under happier circumstances.

OPPOSITIVE APPROACHES to the presidency were taken by Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan involved in the details of virtually all White House plans and actions in 1977-80, and Pres. Reagan, who had the general tone but let others formulate and carry out most decisions.

Mr. Bush is expected to be a hands-on president, adhering to many Reagan policies but adding his own words where necessary.

There will be differences between the current and next administration, but Pres. Bush will be similar to Pres. Reagan in his positive outcome. Confidence that the future will be good for the United States and its citizens. He told the First Monday publication:

"WE STAND FOR peace through strength, economic growth and opportunity for all, and a return to traditional and basic values."

"By rebuilding America's defenses, we have enhanced our national security and brought the Soviet Union back to the bargaining table. The result? The first freeze in the history of arms that completely eliminates an entire class of nuclear weapons."

"Republicans have the longest peacetime economic expansion in our country's history. Unemployment is way down. Inflation is down. Interest rates are down. Job creation and personal income are up."

"AN OPPORTUNITY EXISTS," Mr. Bush believes, "to preserve the peace, defend our freedom, and increase economic prosperity to every working man and woman, hold the line on taxes — and continue to inspire a renaissance of family life and family values."

Although Democrats greatly outnumber Republicans in the Quad City area and the Metro East region, undoubtedly all share in the hope that the new president and this country will succeed in the late 1980s and succeed in the 1990s.

As Mr. Bush's New Year's resolution might phrase it, "Let's work together for peace, prosperity and opportunity for all Americans."

State news

$15.6 million awarded to help fight poverty

The state has awarded $15.6 million through the Illinois Department of Community Services Block Grant program to assist the state and local communities in alleviating poverty. Madison County will get $276,430 of that amount. The money will be allocated to 35 other community action agencies in the state, using a formula based on poverty populations in each region. Services to be offered will include education programs, food assistance, housing, income maintenance, nutrition and other programs to assist low-income people. Each community will be required to commit at least 10 percent of its annual funding to help the needy to become employed.

More disposal sites available in state

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency announced last week that an additional land disposal capacity is available in Illinois than was previously estimated. IEPA Director Bernhard P. Kilian cited an increase of more than 10-million cubic yards of disposal capacity due to new landfills, existing landfills and other sites.

A report, "Available Disposal Capacity for Solid Waste in Illinois," states that from July 1, 1987, through June 30, 1988, an estimated 51.2 million cubic yards of solid waste were generated in 133 landfills and other facilities.

At current disposal volumes, statewide landfill space, on average, is likely to be depleted sometime during the mid-1990s if no additional waste handling capacity is added.

102 counties now have no permitted landfills and must export all garbage and refuse to other areas.

The number will increase to 37 in three years.

AIDS news contest open to students

The Illinois Department of Public Health has announced an AIDS reporting contest for high school newspapers as part of a campaign to foster knowledge and awareness of the deadly disease among youths.

The contest, co-sponsored by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Illinois, will honor the best single report or feature article in combination of the above about AIDS, published during the 1988-89 academic year. The winner will receive $1,000; second- and third-place finishers will receive $500 each.

Children flocking to conservation club

More than 18,000 Illinois youngsters, ages 5 to 18, have registered with the Department of Conservation's Kids for Conservation club.

Gov. James R. Thompson kicked off the program at the 1988 State Fair, pointing out that the club was one that would educate the state's young people and make them better caretakers of Illinois' wildlife and natural heritage. That educational process began in January, when the Department of Conservation made the first of four magazines that enrolled youngsters will receive in 1989.

Youngsters who wish to join the club can obtain an application by writing to Department of Conservation, Kids for Conservation, 224 S. Second St., Springfield, Ill. 62701-1787.

Drug dose system model for others

A unique medication distribution system designed and used by the Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities (DMHDD) has been adopted by the state of Arkansas and is being considered by other states.

The Unit Dose System is a computerized pharmacy support system which pre-sorts individual daily medication doses, saves time and reduces cost, helps prevent unwanted drug interactions, and provides a better way to monitor drug therapy for state clients, according to a state spokesman.

Medications in bulk are delivered to the DMHDD Central Drug Processing Center in Granite City, where they are repackaged as necessary. The medication is then sent to each of DMHDD's 21 residential facilities, where medications are pre-sorted and placed on trays.

New rules for Social Security withholding planning.

As an example, if a husband owned a family business in 1987 and employed his wife, he could reduce his own Social Security liability by increasing his wife's wages on which there was no Social Security tax and reduce his income, which was taxed at 12.5 percent.

But as of Jan. 1, 1988, the exemption age for children was lowered to under 18 and the spouse's exemption was eliminated.

This means the operator of a family business must now pay Social Security from the wages, make the required deposits and file quarterly reports even though one outside the business is employed in the business.

This is basically the same requirement that has always been in effect for family partnerships and family corporations.

The change in the law means that a single-owner family business should be doing some tax planning. If it is near that maximum, reducing the wife's income might produce further savings by making part of the husband's income exempt from Social Security.

The age of the people also could be a factor in planning. If the husband is nearing retirement age, it might benefit both

Theta Iota Chapter holds two recent meetings

Theta Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met twice in December.

On Dec. 11, the club met in the home of Debbie Antognoli for a Sunday afternoon tea. On Dec. 17, the club met in the home of President Barb Young for a gift exchange.

At the first meeting, hostesses Antagnoli and Miriam Taylor served refreshments.

New members Vickie Miller, Linda Gammie, Gail were initiated. Pieper, Kathie Williams, G.G. Kamacho and Cecelia Kamacho were given the Ritual of Jewels.

Legacy member Krista Polston was presented a pearl bracelet from the chapter by her mother.

Games were played and prizes were won.

Members and guest present were: Barb Young, Taylor, Antagnoli, Cecelia Kamacho, Williams, Joyce Alexander, G.G. Kamacho, Miria Taylor, Linda Griffin and guests Amanda Young, Diana Miller, Cheryl Miller, Chrissy McNall and Polston.

At the second meeting, those present received a crocheted stocking and a pair of crocheted skates as favors in observance of the Christmas holiday.

The club traveled to the "Royal Dumper" at the Chesire Inn in St. Louis for a Christmas party.

Dinner and a show were enjoyed by Barb Young, G.G. Kamacho, Taylor, Williams, Antagnoli and Alexander.

Italian group aids Armenia

At the monthly meeting of the Italian-American Club held Dec. 12 at Tony's Restaurant, members voted to make a money donation to the Armenian Relief Fund.

The meeting was called to order by President John Svezia.

The members discussed purchasing a clubhouse building and voted to have a Valentine's Day dinner at The Olive Garden restaurant.

New officers elected were: president, John Petrillo; vice-president, John Petrillo; recording secretary, Jane Moline; and treasurer, Joe Lucido.

A round of applause was given to John Svezia for his four years of service as president. He had decided not to seek re-election.

The club is accepting applications for membership. Members must be of Italian descent or married to a spouse of Italian descent. Those who wish more information may call John Petrillo at 877-5185 or John Svezia at 876-5008.

Guests attending were:

Sorority party hosted locally

Bea Brackett of Gary Avenue entertained Laureate Alpha Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority on Dec. 28 in her home.

Delores Dorch, who was honored on her recent retirement from Central Bank, gave the program for the evening.

She read some poems, which members discussed and then gave their personal hopes for the new year.

Bruckett and Dorch reported on their recent visit with friends residing at Eden Village Retirement Center, Mary Birmingham and Griffin Lucille Vyles.

Linda Fugert entertained the group and guests on New Year's Day and will host again at the next meeting Jan. 11.

Also present were Evelyn Tolivar, Lora Mae Lombardi, Alice Kozeczy, Pat Tsigoloff, Arlene Haledman and Juanita Calve.

Opti-Mrs. have recent luncheon

The Granite City Opti-Mrs. Club met Dec. 19 at the home of Louise Anderson for a noon luncheon.

Hostesses were Dorothy Melvin, Analee Reeves and Louise Anderson.

The opening prayer was given by Rev. Mr. Melvin and the Opti-Mrs. Creed was recited by club members.

A Christmas gift exchange was held and names were drawn for attendance prizes.

Prizes were won by Linda Irwin, Nellie Jennings, Gladys

Cub Pack 22 now Pack 15; Eagles become sponsor

Cub Scout Pack 22 has been renamed Pack 15. Its new sponsor is Granite City Eagles Aerie 1126.

Before the name change, Pack 22 held its last meeting at Frohardt School Gym.

Cubmaster Rich Ahlers asked Dens 6 and 7 to present the colors. Ahlers then announced to the pack that it would be sponsored by Eagles Aerie 1126 of Granite City.

Asst. Cubmaster of Den 6, Asst. Den 7, Gray, Scouting coordinator LeRoy Stark, and Scoutmaster Karl Markovich invited the pack to hold its future meeting at Eagles Aerie 1126.

Flo Stark then lit a Christmas Candle to light the way for the pack.

Ahlers presented Babcat badges to Michael Settemoar of Den 8 and Dan Baker of Den 4, which were pinned on by their parents upstairs until the Scouting den was ready.

A Gold Arrow was given to Ross Sedlacek of Den 3. John Halwachs, a Webelo in Den 7, received his Naturalist's Pin. Jeff Ragen of Den 5 earned his Aquanaut, Artist, and Citizen's pins. Matt Stoll, a Webelo in Den 5, earned his Aquanaut Pin.

Cubmaster Rich Ahlers led Dens 6 and 7 as Santa arrived, the pack sang "Here Comes Santa Claus."

Pinewood Derby kits and candy were given out. Ahlers then asked Dens 6 and 7 to retire the colors and refreshments were served by the pack committee.

Gift exchange for local group meets for gift exchange.

Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held a Christmas party and meeting at the home of Betty Beck on Dec. 19.

President Vickie Barth conducted the business session, while the members recited the creed and closing prayer.

Betty Beck reported that she will attend classes at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville from January until March and then serve as well as needed to take minutes for chapter meetings during that time. She read from the Gray Book of Beta Sigma Phi about the duties and responsibilities of the recording secretary and provided blank forms to assist whenever she would be taking notes.

Linda Koenig gave the treasurer report.

Marily Lumpkins reminded members about the upcoming Beta Sigma Phi City Council Meeting at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 26 at the home of Betty Beck.

Linda Koenig and Barbara Koeneke reminded members to keep bringing items for the "Love Basket" to be given to a needy family in February. It will consist of non-food items that cannot be bought with food stamps.

After the business meeting, members played "Win, Lose or Draw" using Christmas song titles.

A Beta Buddy gift and cookie exchange took place.

Present at the meeting were Vickie Barth, Betty Beck, Cheryl Beck, Donna Bowen, Carol Cathey, Roberta Crawford, Helte, B.J. Jones, Keene, Lumpkins and Carolyn Walsh.

Butterfly Club marks Christmas

The Butterfly Club celebrated Christmas at Tony's Restaurant in Maryville.

Later, members went to Hazel Robbin's clubhouse, which was decorated throughout with a Christmas theme.

After dessert, card games were played and gifts were exchanged.

Prizes were won by Harriet Hedges, Sue Jackson, June Rosenberg and Lorraine McIlroy. Mary Lou Claussen won the honor's prize.

Other members present were Kit Johnson, Edith Ryan, Nell Talley and Irene Willis.

Ryan will host the January meeting.

Garden club makes donation

The Garden Study Club held its annual Christmas dinner and gift exchange at Revannell's Restaurant on Dec. 7.

Eleven members and one guest were present.

The club collect was said in unison.

A motion was made to send the amount to the Tri-City United Way, a general collection.

A motion was made to send to the Salvation Army. A get-well card was signed by all members for Mary Estelle, who was in St. Anthony Hospital in St. Louis.

Correspondence was received from Arlene Cullen, third vice president and publicity chairman of the Garden Club of Illinois Inc., asking about participation for the area and how much coverage was possible. She also sent a form to be filled out on the club's 1988 activities and donations, in order that the state organization would know what ribbon the local club should be awarded.

The club received a thank-you card from Margaret Huesemann for entering her name into the Illinois Book of Honor.

The Christmas gift exchange was handed out by Nancy Polson, daughter of member Ruth Polson.

Present were: Irene Doroghazi, Jean Holder, Christine Hornerberger, Mary Kehoe, Catherine Hough, Helen Meyer, Marie Oaken, Ruth Polson, Bonnie Kotsowski, Mary Stomum, Clara Winter and a guest Carolyn Stearns.

It was announced that there will be no meeting in January, the next meeting will be on Feb. 1, when election of officers will be held at the home of Mary Stomum.

DAR hears Army topic

The Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the DAR held its December meeting at the new home of Nancy Emahiser in Glen Carbon with 11 members present.

Regent Linda Koenig opened the meeting.

Mildred McCormick announced that the DAR state librarian had accepted two books donated by Virginia Segar through the local DAR chapter to be placed in the state DAR Library at Centralia.

Jane Vanesler announced that she had been notified of the selection of two sites in the area for the "Giant Cross," but had not heard from Venice High. These three students will be honored at the January meeting at Jerry's Cafeteria.

The National Defense program was presented by James B. Emahiser, who works for the federal government in St. Louis. He spoke on "How the Army Feeds Troops in the Field."

Emahiser said there are four major kinds of military food: A: rations, tray rations, K rations and special rations. Emahiser said the government buys 20 million meals each year. He said each meal costs about $3, with one-third of this spent on packaging materials. Emahiser had sample meals, which he opened and passed around to the group to smell or taste.

Other members present included: Margaret Belt, Florence Simpson, Emily Schenck, Florence Woodward, Barbara Williams, Mae McCormick, Georgia Engelke and Marie Reinhardt.

Grayson, star of 1940s musicals, pitches desert hotel to St. Louis

By Frank Hunter

Former St. Louisan Kathryn Grayson was 15 years old in 1938 when her pretty face and four-octave vocal range won her a contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

A half-century ago, while Grayson was an academy classmate taught at M.G.M.'s famous Little Red Schoolhouse, celebrated adolescent Elizabeth Taylor and Roddy McDowall threw the era's round.

A few short years later, under the watchful eye of Louis B. Mayer, Grayson's heart-shaped countenance and soaring soprano voice led her into leading roles in MGM's honest musicals — films that stand with ragtime jazz as the most authentically American of all the popular arts.

Grayson attended the Sixty-third Street children's chorus of The Music Man for a year. But she was destined to star with Howard Keel in "Showboat," Kim, "Me and Kate," and "Lucky to Love." At the Shubert would appear opposite Mario Lanza in "That Midnight Kiss," ressembles that Bette Davis' questions and gives answers, and sings from a sizeable repertoire of songs.

She is amazed by the curiosity of young people who attend her concerts.

"That curiosity is also reflected in my fan mail," Grayson said. "I used to climb up on stage and sing all by myself with introductions by the star along with poolside receptions, a chance to have a margarita or two, and a fiesta dinner party the day of arrival."

"I took this celebrity week thing because it broke up the Christmas routine and because the Christmas cards I ordered to send out hadn't arrived," she said.

Grayson's one-woman show resounds that Bette Davis' questions and gives answers, and sings from a sizeable repertoire of songs.

"That curiosity is also reflected in my fan mail," Grayson said. "I used to climb up on stage and sing all by myself with introductions by the star along with poolside receptions, a chance to have a margarita or two, and a fiesta dinner party the day of arrival."

"To this very day I've always wondered how a young performer with an ambitious stage mother can possibly become a success."

"At MGM we were like a family. We were sheltered and protected. People took care of us."

Divorced twice and a grandmother, as well as an avid gardener, Grayson now has lived in the same home overlooking Santa Monica, Calif., and the Pacific Ocean for 43 years.

Now 81, she will host a "Celebrity Week with the Stars" Jan. 23 to 29 at the Aztec Inn, come through via TWA to the desert for a round-trip gallery tour, shopping expeditions, fashion shows, cooking demonstrations and tours of the booming Southwestern metropolis.

And of course there will be screenings of Grayson's classic film introductions, followed by meet-and-greets with the star along with poolside receptions, a chance to have a margarita or two, and a fiesta dinner party the day of arrival.

"I studied voice in St. Louis aiming for an opera career," Grayson said. "I used to climb up on stage and sing all by myself with introductions by the star until they hired me for a summer job in the children's choir."

When Grayson was only 15, Mayer saw her performing Chinese songs and singing "without even ordering a screen test," she said. "He had great taste and a feel for potential talent — that was just how he did things."

Grayson always figured she kept her head on straight in Hollywood because of her down-home earth-like home life.

"My work in pictures didn't go along too easily," she said. "I enjoyed doing it. My mother wasn't a stage mom by any means."

In fact, she rarely went to the studio because the teachers MGM sent to help the young players along with their studies constantly. That was the law in California.

DUSTIN HOFFMAN, right, and Tom Cruise play two brothers who learn about each other during a cross-country trek in 'The Rain Man.'

Story of brothers in 'Rain Man' best Tom Cruise movie to date

Reviews

By Frank Hunter

The story of mismatched brothers so eloquently explored by Tom Hulce and Ray Liotta in "Dominic" and "Eugene" back in October is the subject of director Barry Levinson's "Rain Man" (see sidebar), a funny, bittersweet look at two fascinating characters wonderfully played by Dustin Hoffman and Tom Cruise.

Stanley Marcus, Tom Cruise is Charlie Babbitt, a man-hyper-European sports-car entrepreneur who is about to break when he leaves Los Angeles to attend his wealthy father's funeral in Cincinnati.

Babbitt expects to inherit a wad of money until the family attorney (a cameo role played by former St. Louis actor Jack Mardoc) tells him the old man will, if his father left nearly $3 million to an institution that had cared for an autistic savant older brother Raymond, whom Charlie never knew existed.

Charlie decided out of his bright naturalness leaves Charlie incensed. He has forgotten that he ignored his father in his last years. Nor does it occur to him that his lack of supervision Raymond will require for the rest of his life costs a ton.

With a boat load of Italian Lamborghini cars arriving, Charlie needs some capital in a hurry and figures, somewhat irrationally, that he can break the family trust by abducting Raymond, taking him to the West Coast, and getting his hands on at least half the inheritance.

What follows is a six-day car trip as Charlie and Ray take off in a 30-year-old Buick Roadmaster convertible. The journey is fraught with confusion and intense aggression for Charlie.

Raymond is what you might call a "rigid thinker," a man driven to keep precise schedules for eating, sleeping and watching television.

"Rain Man," which deserves some Oscar nominations, is rated R (language, sex). Running time: 12 minutes. Movie is rated on a four-star system.

But during the drive west, Charlie begins to comprehend his older brother's phenomenal memory capability, as well as the demons that plague. The understanding is forged during crucial moments in the car, over coffee, coffee, coffee, and finally at a Las Vegas casino where Raymond demonstrates uncanny card sense and a spectacular talent for mathematics.

Dustin Hoffman brilliantly conveys the physical and intellectual genius of an autistic person, and Tom Cruise does his best work to date in a provocative picture co-starring Meryl Streep and "Top Gun" friend, a woman of rare common sense and compassion.

Trojanettes clip tough-luck Lady Warriors in OT, 60-58

By Dave Whaley
 Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — The battle for area bragging rights in girls high school basketball went into overtime, but the Trojanettes had the edge in both time and in them than the Lady Warriors.

Madison got 23 points from Sharon Browley, then Bernadet Brandon delivered the winning basket with 10 seconds left in overtime as the Trojanettes (2-4) scored a 60-58 win over the Lady Warriors (3-7) on Tuesday at Memorial Gymnasium.

rebound and dribbled out the remaining seconds.

"I don't know what we have to do to win," said Lady Warrior coach John Hutchings. "We've lost seven games now and six of them have been by less than 10 points. We just can't get points at the critical times. One of these nights the lid is going to come off the basket."

Granite City, which has now lost in a row, shot only 35 percent from the field while the quicker Trojans shot 48 percent. Madison got behind the Lady Warriors for several fast breaks and never relented on the offensive boards, getting second and third shots on numerous occasions.

Detering, Blakley, let Granite City know they might have to wait until she connected on the pointer to start the game as the Trojanettes, who broke a four-game losing streak of their own,

Warriors seek first SWC win in two years

By Dave Whaley
 Executive sports editor

With the holiday season stored away in the memory bank, the 1988 basketball season heads into the heart of the regular season this week.

The Granite City Warriors (6-8) come off a disappointing loss to Triad in the consolation bracket of the Granite City/Schnucks Holiday Classic. The Warriors will host Belleville West at 8 p.m. Friday at Memorial Gymnasium. Don Detering is encouraged by the play of freshman Jeff Smith, who now has four varsity games under his belt. He's averaging 10.5 points and seven rebounds.

"He's only 14 years old, so he's got some things to learn," said Detering. "But he looks like he's going to about 6-9 before he's done growing. He's grown about a half inch since November. He's almost 6-8 now."

But the Warriors are looking for more consistent play from some others. Matt Cook was slowed down at the Collinsville Tournament and Kory Burton's production has gone down as well.

"Mike Wilkinson is my most

Warrior skaters postponed; wait for Roberson's return

21 when we play Hazelwood Central."

Henson said Roberson has had good grades, but has had the time in Michigan was a good experience.

"He wore a coat and tie to school every day and everything was regimented for him there. He's been here this week. He's practiced with us and he looks better. He'll add a lot of scoring punch obviously."

Henson said he would prefer to have Roberson sit out the remainder of this year and come back for a full season next winter, but Roberson told him he would prefer to play next year.

"We could have a pretty good team next year with Jim Henson," said "But we can't be sure they would allow him to play next year. We should have him ready for the playoffs."

The Warriors are 3-2, but they are 3-2 in North Division play and have rematches yet to come with Hazelwood Central and McCluer North, the two division foes to beat them.

'Canes are tops in college; Bengals, 'Niners will meet

Because of some hard work on Friday, I was able to take off Saturday morning, December 31, and I saw so much foot traffic that the lines on the highway this morning looked strangely like hash marks.

One of all the New Year's weekend gridiron came these impressions:

The Miami Hurricanes are the best college football team in the country. They may not be the best over. But they didn't get the No. 1 vote and probably wouldn't have gotten it from me if I had one.

It's been one of the way things work, the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame earned their 13th national championship. Strangely, the Irish always win the national title despite the fact their head coach is in his third season on the job. They won in 1966 in Ara Parseghian's third year, in 1977 in Dan Devine's second year, in 1986 in Lou Holtz's third year. If they get a new coach in 1987, bet on the Irish in '89.

But the Hurricanes have an amazing program. They simply don't choke. Jimmy Johnson's squad toyed with a powerful Nebraska on Monday in the Orange Bowl on Monday. The Canes are known for quarterbacks like Kelly, Bernie Kosar, Vinnie Testaverde and Steve Walsh but . . .

Before Lou Saban recruited Kelly in 1979, Miami was a running team, featuring a fast, powerful back named O.J. Anderson.

There already a new Game of the Century brewing next fall, when Notre Dame and Miami get together in Florida. Both teams are supposed to be even better in 1989. Miami would probably be ranked No. 1 and 2 when the season starts, particularly if Walsh decides to come back for his senior year.

The Irish's easy win over West Virginia wasn't too shocking, although everyone was hoping for a game to match up to the hype. Mountaineer quarterback Jim Harbaugh was hurt early and didn't play up to par, although it probably wouldn't have made much difference. West Virginia didn't face too many teams of Notre Dame's caliber this season.

It turned out to resemble most of the recent Super Bowls. Speaking of which, there's a rematch of Super Bowl XVI this year. You'll recall that one seven years ago in the Pontiac Silverdome when the San Francisco 49ers edged the Cincinnati Bengals 26-21.

The Bears dodged the bullet Saturday against the Eagles, and that was tough to do considering they were the ones seen in the fog. Mike Ditka's team seems a little vulnerable now against a red-hot 49er team intent on avenging the last three years of playoff failure. The Bears quarterback situation is up in the air again. And without Richard Dent, they will be hard-pressed to match their exquisite performance in the Super Bowl 24 against Frisco, when Chicago won 10-9 in one of the best NFL games of the past many years.

All-Canada Show is this weekend

Canadians simply mentioning the name prompts many outdoorsmen to conjure up visions of big fish, wilderness vistas and game aplenty.

Each of this country's 10 provinces and territories is as different as our states. There's sophistication and Old World charm in its major cities — from Montreal to Toronto to Vancouver. Then there's the smorgasbord of fishing, hunting, camping, boating and outdoor vacation opportunities offered by Canada's wild country that is so appealing.

St. Louisans may explore some of those opportunities at the All-Canada Fishing, Hunting and Vacation Show scheduled for Saturday and Sunday at the Cervantes Convention Center. St. Louis is the first of 11 stops on a tour of the United States, said show director Pat Hopkins.

"We've got 100 exhibitors," Hopkins said. "We've really grown over the past years. This will be our fourth year in St. Louis and we've about doubled the size of the show."

He said the exhibits will be primarily hunting and fishing lodges from Ontario and Manitoba, but there is representation from Alberta, Saskatchewan and the Northwest Territories, too.

Hours for the All-Canada Fishing, Hunting and Vacation Show are: 5 to 9:30 p.m. Thursday, 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Friday, 11 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Saturday, and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Admission is $5.50 for adults, $3.50 for children under 12 and seniors older than 60. Children 3 and younger are admitted free.

last eight NFC championship games. But all streaks must end.

Montana, Rice and Craig are better than McMahon/Tomczak, McHugh and Anderson. San Francisco 24, Chicago 17.

It seems hard to imagine that the Bengals were 4-11 last year and the laughingstock of the league in many ways. It also seems hard to believe the Bills were 2-14 in 1984 and 1985.

Now here they are playing for a trip to Miami. Like the Bears before them, it's a matter of a regular-season game on the same field. But unlike that one, the result won't change here.

The Bills are probably one of the few defenses that can stop the Bengal attack, but for some reason it doesn't seem like that will happen, at least not enough for a Buffalo victory.

For at least one Bengal, it will

a better result than the last time Cincinnati won the AFC.

James Brooks was a San Jose Charger and a Cornell graduate who led the Trojans to a 10-2 record.

It will probably be warmer this Sunday, as befitting a stadium known as "The Jungle."

Bengals 27, Bills 13.

shot out to a 6-0 lead. But the Lady Warriors bounced back and finally took the lead at 22-21 on Karen Sykes' basket. In the second quarter, Mountieburg's two free throws gave Granite City a 28-25 halftime lead.

The lead changed hands nine times in the third quarter and a basket by Sykes, one of four Lady Warriors in double figures, tied it at 42-42 heading into the final eight minutes.

That's when LaGloria Marshall connected on two three-pointers as the Trojanettes took a 44-42 lead. Granby's left Bequette on her hands by Michelle Bequette, but the Trojanettes got baskets from Marshall and Brownley to take a 54-52 lead in the final minute of regulation.

Jennifer Cavaness, who led Granite City with 20 points, tied the game with 12 seconds left on a layup. But Cavness' missed three-pointer. But Cavness fouled out with the 6-2 Cavness as Brownley and Brandon took the ball to the basket again. Brandon added 14 points and Marshall had 13.

The Trojettes host Lebanon tonight at 6 p.m. The Lady Warriors play at Belleville Althoff on Friday at 7:30.

consistent player right now," said Deterding. "I thought we could have won a game from Matt, but we aren't right now. The others will just have to play a little better."

Belleville West was thought by some to be a contender in the Southeastern Conference, but the Maroons have struggled to a 2-7 start, 0-3 in league play. Jeff Hasenstab leads West with 15.5 points per game. The Maroons are averaging 20.2 points per game, 11.5 in conference play.

The Devils' leading scorer is with 21.3 points per game and is fourth in rebounding with 13.1 per game. Daryl Jackson had 18 points and nine assists against Summer and is averaging 20.2 points per game.

The Venice Red Devils (8-2) have a big test on Saturday at 9 a.m. at St. Louis Assumption. The Pioneers and Red Devils are probably the area's premier Class A teams. Assumption won its ninth game by an average margin of 37 points, but they don't have a senior who is a key contributor. They average 80.5 points per game and lead the metro east in defense, allowing only 49 points per game.

Monteoff Dixon leads the show with 14.5 points, 12.2 rebounds and 10.5 assists. He is followed by junior center Ian Stanback with 16 points and 17 rebounds per game. Ronald Scott is averaging 13.7 points and 12.2 rebounds per game while Maurice Horton averages nine assists and 4.1 steals.

The Devils beat the Pioneers twice last year when they were both 10-2. The Assumption team is 10-1 this year. The Pioneers are 9-2. The Trojettes weren't intimidated by the 6-2 Cavness as Brownley and Brandon took the ball to the basket again. Brandon added 14 points and Marshall had 13.

The Trojettes host Lebanon tonight at 6 p.m. The Lady Warriors play at Belleville Althoff on Friday at 7:30.
